Peer Tutoring 11 is a course designed to give students the opportunity to provide support to other students in a subject area that they have demonstrated competence in. Support will take a variety of forms; students will follow the direction of the teacher they are placed with. A student who has already taken Peer Tutoring 11 may also take Peer Tutoring 12, which has the additional responsibility of planning and delivering a lesson each term under the supervision of the classroom teacher.

Assessment and Evaluation for the course is based on a variety of assignments, teacher evaluations, and student self-assessments. Most of the mark will be based on a peer tutors' engagement with the students and teacher in their designated class. Peer tutors must communicate effectively with e-mail and Microsoft Teams. All peer tutors may be requested to attend some learning sessions during FOCUS time.

To be considered for any Peer Tutoring course, a student must have a history of good attendance and citizenship and provide a reference from a teacher (see back of the page). This reference does not necessarily have to reflect academic excellence but must vouch for the characteristics needed.

*Note: this course will be coordinated by Mr. Sandberg, one of our Vice-Principals. You will be added to a Microsoft Teams page and will be expected to check this page regularly and communicate over teams.
